front of wasted. Secondly, there should be lesson on money management at home. Mostly parents do not discuss money matters with children. They should tell their children about the small investments. They must be told that they are giving a responsibility to their children. Teenagers can learn money management by doing part time jobs like working part time in advertising, malls and restaurants. They will learn the dignity of labour and feel the joy of their first earnings. It is shocking that many youngsters are using credit card today. They keep credit card with them. This is harmful if they are not taught the right and judicious use of credit card.
