Q.31 Write the summary of the following passage.

Science and technology have relieved mankind degrading drudgery. They have added to man's comfort, health and enjoyment of existence. The average life span of man on earth has been greatly increased. Science has added to the dignity and stature of the individual. When man is relieved from the battle for physical safety, he becomes a little creator. Every challenge of science has added to man's moral stature. We are led into new fields of awareness, new ranges of attainment, new realization of destiny. New knowledge is both a challenge and opportunity. Further, it is not yet known what man may be. He must, without haste and without rest, strive to reach the quality of human greatness, that is, greatness in humanity.

Read the following passage and answer the questions:-

Politeness is a great virtue. A man who behaves politely towards others is not only respected but loves also. People speak well of him on all occasions. No one can be angry with him.

Politeness towards others means that we are civilized and cultured. A rude person can never be called cultured. He will always give offence to others by his bold manners. But a polite person will always please others by his polite behaviour and good manners.

Politeness means consideration for the feelings of others. A polite man always puts the feeling of others first. He will not say things that will hurt them. He will not speak in a rude way.

Politeness is necessary for success in life. Rough, rude and selfish people are always disliked: kind, polite and selfless people are always popular. A rude shopkeeper is never liked by the customers. They always go to the shop of that man who greets them with a smile on his face, speaks to them politely and is nice to them in behaviour.

Politeness has been called 'the oil of the social machine'.
