 (10x1=10)

Our religious leaders tell us that we have got this life with great difficulty. If we do good things, our life will become useful. People who are real doers of great deeds, are respected and remembered in life, They do not go on contemplating and thinking but they just do what they contemplate. There can be no action without contemplation but if no one simply contemplates and takes no action, it will be of no use. Those people are always remembered and respected who act in right and fruitful direction. Thus, it is well said that life is action, not contemplation.
