

- Q.17 Describe the characteristics of vernacular architecture in Rajasthan.
- Q.18 What are some of the challenges and opportunities facing vernacular architecture in the modern era?
- Q.19 Describe the characteristics of vernacular architecture in the Kashmir region.
- Q.20 Name any four vernacular materials.
- Q.21 Describe the type of vernacular architecture of Kerala with Suitable example.
- Q.22 Explain the "Bhunga House" in detail.

SECTION-D

Note: Long answer type questions. Attempt any two questions out of three questions. (2x8=16)

- Q.23 Describe in detail the houses of the Nair and Namboothri community.
- Q.24 Explain the importance of using local and natural materials in Vernacular Architecture. Elaborate with suitable examples.
- Q.25 Describe the characteristics of Vernacular Architecture in mountainous regions and Explain how these characteristics help to withstand snow loads, high winds, and extreme temperatures.

No. of Printed Pages : 4
Roll No.

220264A

6th Sem/ Architectural, Architectural (For Speech & Hearing Impaired) Subject : Vernacular Architecture

Time : 3 Hrs.

M.M. : 60

SECTION-A

Note: Multiple choice questions. All questions are compulsory (6x1=6)

- Q.1 Vernacular Architecture is often influenced by :
- Climate and geography
 - Culture and tradition
 - Economic and social factors
 - All of the above
- Q.2 Which of the following is an example of vernacular Architecture?
- A skyscraper in a city
 - A traditional village house
 - A modernist building
 - A Gothic cathedral
- Q.3 Which of the following is a benefit of Vernacular Architecture?
- It is often more expensive than modern architecture

- b) It is less sustainable than modern architecture
 - c) It is more adaptable to local climates and environments
 - d) It is less culturally significant than modern architecture
- Q.4 Which of the following materials is commonly used in vernacular Architecture in tropical climates?
- a) Bamboo b) Wood
 - c) Stone d) Brick
- Q.5 Which of the following materials is commonly used in vernacular Architecture in regions with high rainfall?
- a) Wood b) Bamboo
 - c) Stone d) Thatch
- Q.6 Which of the following materials is commonly used in Vernacular Architecture in regions with high temperatures?
- a) Wood b) Bamboo
 - c) Stone d) Mud

SECTION-B

Note: Objective/ Completion type questions. All questions are compulsory. (6x1=6)

- Q.7 What type of roof is commonly used in Vernacular Architecture in tropical regions?

(2)

220264A

- Q.8 What is the term for the study of the relationship between buildings and their environment?
- Q.9 What type of architecture is characterized by the use of local materials and traditional building techniques?
- Q.10 What type of a roof is commonly used in Vernacular Architecture in desert regions?
- Q.11 Vernacular Architecture is characterized by the use of advanced materials and techniques. (True/False)
- Q.12 Jaali is used for natural sunlight and ventilation. (True/False)

SECTION-C

Note: Short answer type questions. Attempt any eight questions out of ten questions. (8x4=32)

- Q.13 Explain vernacular architecture, and write its key characteristics?
- Q.14 Describe the importance of climate and geography in shaping vernacular architecture.
- Q.15 Describe some of the ways in which vernacular architecture can inform and inspire modern architectural design?
- Q.16 Describe the influence of colonialism and modernization on traditional Indian vernacular architecture.

(3)

220264A