

Q.21 How does job rotation contribute to employee development and organizational effectiveness?

Q.22 Describe the components of a comprehensive job description and their importance in HR.

SECTION-D

Note: Long answer type questions. Attempt any two questions out of three questions. (2x8=16)

Q.23 Discuss the role of human Resource Management (HRM) in achieving organizational goals and explain how effective HRM practices contribute to organizational success.

Q.24 Explain the concept of job design and discuss different approaches to job design.

Q.25 Discuss the importance of training needs assessment in designing effective training programs and explain the steps involved in conducting a training needs assessment within an organization.

No. of Printed Pages : 4

226731

Roll No.

3rd Sem / DBM

Subject : Human Resource Management

Time : 3 Hrs.

M.M. : 60

SECTION-A

Note: Multiple choice questions. All questions are compulsory (6x1=6)

Q.1 What is the primary objective of Human Resource Management (HRM)?

- a) Maximizing shareholder value
- b) Ensuring employee satisfaction
- c) Achieving organizational goals through effective management of people.
- d) Minimizing operational costs

Q.2 Which of the following is not a component of job design?

- a) Job enrichment b) Job enlargement
- c) Job specification d) Job rotation

Q.3 Which document outlines the responsibilities, duties, and requirements of a particular job position?

- a) Job design b) Job specification
- c) Job analysis d) Job description

- Q.4 Recruitment is the process of:
- Selecting the best candidate for a job
 - Training employees to perform specific tasks
 - Attracting potential candidates to apply for job vacancies.
 - Evaluating employees performance.
- Q.5 Compensation typically includes which of the following elements?
- Salary and benefits
 - Job description and job specification
 - Training needs assessment
 - Employee motivation techniques
- Q.6 Incentives are used in organizations primarily to:
- Punish underperforming employees
 - Enhance employee motivation and productivity
 - Minimize employee turnover
 - Standardize job roles and responsibilities.

SECTION-B

- Note: Objective/ Completion type questions(True/False).
All questions are compulsory. (6x1=6)
- Q.7 Human Resource Management (HRM) is not concerned with employees satisfaction.
- Q.8 Job enrichment involves expanding the scope of an employee's job.
- Q.9 Job specification outlines the qualification, skills, and experience required for a particular job position.

- Q.10 Job analysis involves evaluating employees performance to determine promotions or salary adjustments.
- Q.11 Incentives are a form of compensation that includes both salary and benefits.
- Q.12 Recruitment is the process of identifying and attracting qualified candidates to fill job vacancies within an organization.

SECTION-C

- Note: Short answer type questions. Attempt any eight questions out of ten questions. (8x4=32)
- Q.13 What are the main objectives of Human Resource Management (HRM)?
- Q.14 Explain the concept of job enrichment and how it contributes to job design.
- Q.15 Define job specification and discuss its significance in the recruitment and selection process.
- Q.16 Describe the steps involved in conducting a job analysis.
- Q.17 What are the key factors organizations should consider when designing a compensation.
- Q.18 How do incentives differ from traditional forms of compensation?
- Q.19 Discuss the importance of training needs assessment in employee development.
- Q.20 Explain the process of recruitment and its role in attracting talent to organizations.